Install the Extension

Note: it is recommended to install the extension on your sandbox environment for testing before deploying to your production environment.

1. Save the .app file to an accessible location. In our scenario, it is saved in C:\Temp

2. Login to Business Central as a Super User

3. Go to Setup and Extensions > Extensions. Alternatively, if Setup and Extensions is not on your screen, Search and goto Extension Management

10. The Subscription Numbers are used to assign subscription Ids when creating new subscriptions. The Sub Batch Numbers used when processing the subscriptions for creation and posting to keep track of the history and the subscriptions that were posted in each batch.

Security

During install, a Permission Set/Role called Subscriptions is added. Any users who do not have escalated permissions that need access to this functionality must have this Permission set added to their user setup.

1. To add the role to a user, go to the Users List page.

2. Select the user you want to add the permission set to and click on Edit.
